

GERMANY FILES
STRONG PROTESTComplains United States Is Favoring Her Enemies.

QUOTES PRESIDENT WILSON

Officials of the State Department Have Already Begun Preparations of a Reply and Will Deny the Allegations—Great Britain's Naval Superiority Proves a Strong Factor.

Washington, April 10.—Germany has sent to the United States government a note complaining that the latter has accomplished nothing in its diplomatic correspondence with the allies to obtain for American exporters the right to ship foodstuffs to the civilian population of a belligerent country. The communication intimates, also, that the United States has virtually acquiesced in the British order in council prohibiting commerce with Germany.

In view of these considerations the German government calls attention to the fact that the allies daily are obtaining large shipments of arms and ammunition from dealers in the United States and declares that the American government, while insisting on its legal right to ship arms to belligerents, does not with equal energy pursue its rights to ship foodstuffs and noncontraband articles to the civilian population of Germany.

The note adds that, irrespective of the formal aspects of the question of shipping arms to belligerents, the spirit of neutrality should be observed. In support of this contention a quotation is cited from President Wilson's address to congress on Mexican affairs in August, 1913, when he said:

President Wilson Quoted.

"I shall follow the best practice of nations in the matter of neutrality by forbidding the exportation of arms or munitions of war of any kind from the United States to any part of the republic of Mexico—a policy suggested by several interesting precedents and certainly dictated by many manifest considerations of practical expediency. We cannot, under the circumstances, be partisans of either party of the contest that now distracts Mexico or constitute ourselves the virtual umpire between them."

Officials of the state department have begun the preparation of a reply, which will be delivered to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador here. The complaint that neutral countries had submitted to the influence of the allies in connection with the right to ship conditional contraband and foodstuffs to the civilian population of a belligerent has been made before by Germany in her diplomatic notes—this being cited by the German foreign office as one of the reasons for proclaiming a submarine war zone of the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland.

The United States denied, in its reply then, that it had been silent on the question and called attention to its diplomatic notes to Great Britain dealing with these subjects.

It is understood that the reply to the present complaint will deny vigorously that this government has acquiesced in any way to the order in council and probably will refer to the last note sent by the United States to Great Britain, arguing at length its opposition to the viewpoint of the allies on the blockade question.

As for the utterances of the president on the shipment of arms into Mexico officials here hold that the Mexican situation constitutes a special case, in no way comparable with the relations between the United States and the European belligerents. Officials pointed out that the president said in the same address to congress:

"I deem it my duty to exercise the authority conferred upon me by the law of March 14, 1912, to see to it that neither side to the struggle now going on in Mexico receive any assistance from this side of the border."

There is no law by which the president of the United States, it was declared, could exercise the same authority, even if he were desirous of forbidding the exportation of arms to all belligerents, as to do so without authority from congress would be unconstitutional.

The viewpoint of the government has from the outset been that its position with respect to the shipment of arms has been enforced impartially as to all belligerents and Secretary Bryan's letter to Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee, discussing this point, contended that if the German allies were unable to enjoy the same advantages as to the delivery of arms into their country this was due to the naval superiority of Great Britain and not to any circumstances over which the United States had any control.

Typhus Must Be Stamped Out, or Crops Can't Be Raised.

Washington, April 10.—Dr. T. T. Wells of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the Serbian agricultural relief committee of America, telegraphed the local branch of his organization that unless the typhus epidemic, now raging in Serbia, is stamped out immediately there will be no need to send seeds and agricultural implements to that country.

"Americans who want to help in fighting this greatest of modern epidemics," said the message, "cannot send money, clothing, hospital or sanitary supplies to the committee too quickly."

BRITAIN REWARDS
CREW OF SUNK SHIPCaptain of the Vosges Made Naval Lieutenant.

London, April 10.—The government's intention to encourage merchantmen to resist or dodge submarine attacks is emphasized by an official announcement that Captain John Richard Green of the steamer Vosges, which was sunk off the Cornish coast on March 27 by the shell fire of a German submarine, has been granted a commission as lieutenant in the royal naval reserve and awarded the distinguished service cross.

The other officers of the steamer have been given gold watches and each member of the crew has received $15.

The Vosges was under fire for more than two hours before she was sunk, her chief engineer being killed and two other officers and two members of the crew, as well as a woman passenger, being wounded.

By skillful handling of his ship Captain Green prevented the torpedoing of the steamer and the submarine opened fire on the ship with her guns.

The steamer was getting away from the submarine when a shell hit her funnel and her speed was reduced.

As the Vosges was making water the captain ordered his passengers and crew into the boats.

NEW YORK STOCK

New York, April 10.—With transactions aggregating almost 1,300,000 shares and gains extending from 3 to 7½ points in leading issues, the stock market was the most exciting and noteworthy of any day since July 30 last.

On that date, which marked the issuance of Germany's ultimatum to Russia, the market was stirred into a state of feverish activity at the expense of values.

Boston, Mass.

Is now and has been the greatest "Teen Age" expert in America. No doubt the large number of delegates at the convention is due to the drawing power of Miss Slattery. Minnesota is fortunate to secure a woman of this type to stir the hearts of the Sunday school workers of this state, as they have never been stirred before. She will always live in the hearts and lives of the Sunday school workers of this convention.

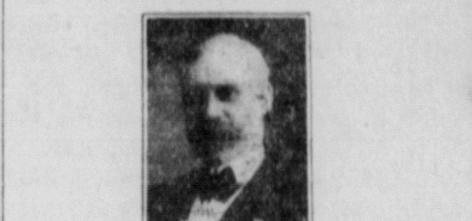

sentiment was practically unanimous. The convention was bright with the red badges marked "Austin, 1915," distributed by the Austin Commercial club which worked valiantly to secure the convention. The Austin city council sent a special delegate, L. P. Fisher, and he worked like a Trojan and talked Austin day and night.

At the meeting last night, addressed by Dr. W. A. Brown, Chicago, Prof. W. A. Stearns, Fargo and Miss Margaret Slattery, Boston, the crowd was so great that the opera house was soon filled. At 7:20 P. M. nearly every seat was taken and hundreds were being turned away.

General Secretary A. M. Locker speedily made preparations to handle the overflow. The Bethlehem Lutheran church was opened, a program prepared and presided over by Mr. Locker. The speakers there were Marion Lawrance, Chicago, F. H. Brigham, Neenah, Wis., and others.

Yesterday's rains were succeeded by bright, warm, sunny weather and the convention crowds showed no sign of decrease, on the contrary, many additional registrations were recorded. Groups came from St. Paul, forty from Aitkin and other points. Brainerd citizens are opening their homes and entertaining the visitors and proudly sustaining the record of Brainerd for hospitality.

The Aitkin delegation represented largely the Methodist and Congregational Sunday schools. In the elementary department were Mrs. S. J.

British in Germany.

London, April 10.—A "white paper," concerning the treatment of British prisoners in Germany, has been issued here. It consists of a series of letters and documents and correspondence between the British government and Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador here.

The correspondence covers seven months and fills eighty-seven pages of the "white paper."

It purports to show that Germany systematically withheld information regarding the condition of British prisoners and even declined to permit an American diplomatic representative to carry out an examination of the war prisoners in Germany in a manner similar to that permitted by Great Britain.

Many Other Towns Are Also Expected to Take Part in the Demonstration—Socialist Leader Declares Unless War Results a Profound Political Upheaval Means a Change of Regime.

Rome, April 10.—Political parties favorable to Italy's immediate intervention in the war, comprising Democrats, Radicals, Reformists, Socialists and Nationalists, have arranged a great meeting to be held on Sunday throughout Italy in an endeavor to bring about the participation of the country in the conflict.

The Courriere d'Italia, commenting on the event, says that it has assumed the character of a warning to the monarchy, since the National league, which arranged the meeting, adopted a resolution containing this sentence: "If after long waiting there are disillusion, no matter of what nature, a profound political upheaval is inevitable."

Professor Mussolini, a Socialist leader, explains this section of the resolution thus:

"In other words, if the monarchy is unable to make national war, the monarchy will cease to exist in Italy, as a profound political upheaval means a change of regime."

Washington, April 10.—Full details regarding the sale of unreserved lands on the Standing Rock Indian reservation, which will be opened to settlement May 3, have been arranged by the general land office.

About 39,000 acres in North Dakota and nearly 47,000 acres in South Dakota will be sold to persons qualified to make entry under the homestead laws. The prices will range from $2.50 to $5 an acre.

Under a proclamation issued by the president filings may be made at the Bismarck (N. D.) land office or the Timber Lake (S. D.) land office on or after May 3. One-fifth of the purchase price must be paid at the time of entry. Each application to make homestead entry must be accompanied by a fee of $5, if the area is eighty acres or less, or $10 if more than eighty acres also commissions of 2½ cents for each acre applied for.

QUOTES PRESIDENT WILSON

Washington, April 10.—Germany has sent to the United States government a note complaining that the latter has accomplished nothing in its diplomatic correspondence with the allies to obtain for American exporters the right to ship foodstuffs to the civilian population of a belligerent country. The communication intimates, also, that the United States has virtually acquiesced in the British order in council prohibiting commerce with Germany.

WITH THE FRENCH WOUNDED*The Woman's Sacrifice

Paris, April 10, 8:30 p. m.—Away
from the battlefield one sees war stripped of its glamor. We see the heroic work of nurses who are on duty day and night. There is devotion, self-sacrifice, suffering patriotism—qualities which only a great war and its terrible consequences can inspire to the highest development.
The women everywhere are helping
and everywhere one sees self-sacrifice
and devotion to country.

The women of the United States do
not know how fortunate they are.
Here there are plenty of women who suffer in silence, whose strength is
out of proportion to their ambition.
Their hands are tied by some chronic disease common to womanhood; that weak back, accompanied by pain here
or there, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, maybe fainting spells or spasms, are all signals of distress for women. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood, passing from womanhood to motherhood, and
later suffering from that change
which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any or all of these periods of a woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve, prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women.
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has successfully treated more cases the
past fifty years than any other known remedy. When you feel dull, headachy, backache, dizzy, or perhaps hot flashes, there is nothing you
can accomplish, nothing you can enjoy. You can find permanent relief
in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
It is sold by medicine dealers, or
trial box by mail from Dr. Pierce,
Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of 50-cents, or one dollar for large box.—Advt.

DUE TO NEGLECT

Submarine Officer Writes Letter to Brother.

WROTE BEFORE THE ACCIDENT

Lieutenant Alfred Ede, in Command of the F-4 When She Failed to Return to the Surface Near Honolulu, Describes the Submarine as in an Un-
seaworthy Condition.

Los Angeles, April 10.—In a letter
written at Honolulu on March 22,
Lieutenant Alfred Ede, the naval officer who was lost with his crew when the United States submarine F-4 disappeared off Honolulu harbor on March 25, told his brother here that
"if the whole boat should vanish in smoke I do not think I should be terribly astonished."

The brother, Allison Ede, an employee of the Los Angeles city engineer's office, received the letter several days ago. The letter is as follows:

"This is not a very exciting place,
but enough happens to the boat to at least keep up interest. I just came back from Pearl harbor on Thursday,
where I have been for ten days, having a new motor put in. Previous to
that we had a hydrogen explosion in
the battery, engine breakdowns, etc.

"So there is something doing all the time. Take a mere trifle like today—
down fifty feet and no bottom below
and water trickling in through one of the valves. That does not give us a thrill any more. In fact, if the whole boat should vanish in smoke, I don't think I would be terribly astonished."

INTERESTS NAVAL OFFICERS

Report That Submarine F-4 Was in Poor Condition.

Washington, April 10.—Secretary
Daniels declared that the last reports
to the navy department, as late as March 1, showed the ill fated submarine F-4 to be in good condition.

Naval officers and department officials read with interest Los Angeles press dispatches saying a brother of Lieutenant Ede, who commanded the
submarine when she went to the bottom in Honolulu harbor on March 25,
had received a letter written two days
before the tragedy in which the lieutenant said he expected his vessel "to vanish in smoke any time."

No one was inclined to discuss the letter. Officials said the truth about the boat's condition at the time she started on her last cruise probably would not be known until she was raised and examined.

PROCEEDING VERY SLOWLY

Preparations to Raise Disabled American Submarine.

Honolulu, April 10.—Preparations
for raising the F-4 from the ocean
floor, where it has been submerged
since March 25, are proceeding slowly.

It is reported that the plan of trying to reach the submarine with a diving tube might be abandoned. Officers in charge of the work refused
to discuss the report.

AGED NORTH DAKOTAN DEAD

Thomas Walsh Founded the City of Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—
Thomas Walsh, builder of the first
frame residence in the city of Grand Forks, a business man in the Red river valley before the days of the railroads, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Wineman. The
name of Walsh was identified with almost everything worth while in the settlement of the valley.

It was in 1871 that Thomas Walsh
took up his residence in what is now
Grand Forks. Previous to that he had been a resident of Henderson,
Sibley county, Minn., where he served
as postmaster under the administration of President Johnson.

As a soldier in the Civil war, enlisting in Company L Tenth Minnosota Infantry, Mr. Walsh participated in many engagements up to the battle of Nashville, in which he was wounded,
resulting in his being laid up several months. Subsequently, he joined his company at New Orleans and proceeded to Mobile, participating in the taking of the Spanish fort.

Mr. Walsh at some time held about every office in the city and county of Grand Forks. He was born in the County Louth, Ireland, Nov. 14, 1822,
being ninety-three years old at the
time of his death.

ing of American ports and the placing of a ban on shipment of supplies,
even of food, to belligerents, if that is necessary to stop the European war, in an address before 400 guests
of the E. R. Wolcott post, G. A. R., here.

The occasion was the fiftieth anni-

WITH THE FRENCH WOUNDED

The Woman's Sacrifice

Paris, April 10, 8:30 p. m.—Away
from the battlefield one sees war
stripped of its glamor. We see the heroic work of nurses who are on duty day and night. There is devotion, self-sacrifice, suffering patriotism—qualities which only a great
war and its terrible consequences can
inspire to the highest development.
The women everywhere are helping
and everywhere one sees self-sacrifice
and devotion to country.

The women of the United States do
not know how fortunate they are.
Here there are plenty of women who
suffer in silence, whose strength is
out of proportion to their ambition.
Their hands are tied by some chronic disease common to womanhood; that
weak back, accompanied by pain here
or there, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, maybe fainting spells or
spasms, are all signals of distress for women. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood, passing
from womanhood to motherhood, and
later suffering from that change
which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any or all of these periods
of a woman's life she should take a
tonic and nerve, prescribed for just
such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women.
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has successfully treated more cases the
past fifty years than any other known remedy. When you feel dull,
headachy, backache, dizzy, or perhaps hot flashes, there is nothing you
can accomplish, nothing you can enjoy. You can find permanent relief
in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
It is sold by medicine dealers, or
trial box by mail from Dr. Pierce,
Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of 50-cents, or one dollar for
large box.—Adv't.

Submarine Officer Writes Letter to Brother.

WROTE BEFORE THE ACCIDENT

Lieutenant Alfred Ede, in Command of
the F-4 When She Failed to Return
to the Surface Near Honolulu, Describes the Submarine as in an Un-
seaworthy Condition.

Los Angeles, April 10.—In a letter
written at Honolulu on March 22, Lieutenant Alfred Ede, the naval officer who was lost with his crew when the United States submarine F-4 disappeared off Honolulu harbor on March 25, told his brother here that
"if the whole boat should vanish in
smoke I do not think I should be terribly astonished."

The brother, Allison Ede, an employee of the Los Angeles city engineer's office, received the letter several days ago. The letter is as follows:

"This is not a very exciting place,
but enough happens to the boat to at least keep up interest. I just came back from Pearl harbor on Thursday,
where I have been for ten days, having a new motor put in. Previous to
that we had a hydrogen explosion in
the battery, engine breakdowns, etc.

"So there is something doing all the
time. Take a mere trifle like today—
down fifty feet and no bottom below
and water trickling in through one of the valves. That does not give us a thrill any more. In fact, if the whole boat should vanish in smoke I don't think I would be terribly astonished."

INTERESTS NAVAL OFFICERS

Report That Submarine F-4 Was in Poor Condition.

Washington, April 10.—Secretary
Daniels declared that the last reports
to the navy department, as late as
March 1, showed the ill fated submarine F-4 to be in good condition.

Naval officers and department officials read with interest Los Angeles
press dispatches saying a brother of Lieutenant Ede, who commanded the
submarine when she went to the bottom in Honolulu harbor on March 25,
had received a letter written two days
before the tragedy in which the lieutenant said he expected his vessel "to
vanish in smoke any time."

No one was inclined to discuss the letter. Officials said the truth about
the boat's condition at the time she
started on her last cruise probably
would not be known until she was raised and examined.

PROCEEDING VERY SLOWLY

Preparations to Raise Disabled American Submarine.

Honolulu, April 10.—Preparations
for raising the F-4 from the ocean
floor, where it has been submerged
since March 25, are proceeding slowly.

It is reported that the plan of trying to reach the submarine with a diving tube might be abandoned. Officers in charge of the work refused
to discuss the report.

AGED NORTH DAKOTAN DEAD

Thomas Walsh Founded the City of
Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—
Thomas Walsh, builder of the first
frame residence in the city of Grand Forks, a business man in the Red
river valley before the days of the
railroads, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Wineman. The
name of Walsh was identified with almost everything worth while in the settlement of the valley.

It was in 1871 that Thomas Walsh
took up his residence in what is now
Grand Forks. Previous to that he had been a resident of Henderson,
Sibley county, Minn., where he served
as postmaster under the administration of President Johnson.

As a soldier in the Civil war, enlisting in Company I, Tenth Minnesota infantry, Mr. Walsh participated in many engagements up to the battle of
Nashville, in which he was wounded,
resulting in his being laid up several months. Subsequently, he joined his company at New Orleans and proceeded to Mobile, participating in the taking of the Spanish fort.

Mr. Walsh at some time held about
every office in the city and county of
Grand Forks. He was born in the County Louth, Ireland, Nov. 14, 1822,
being ninety-three years old at the
time of his death.

Milwaukee, April 10.—Governor Em-

ing of American ports and the placing of a ban on shipment of supplies,
even of food, to belligerents, if that
is necessary to stop the European war, in an address before 400 guests
of the E. R. Wolcott post, G. A. R.,

The occasion was the fiftieth anni-

CONVENTION NEWS

and an old man who was breaking down.

"Eat now," said Prof. Stearns. "we want the best product of schools and colleges in the rural districts."

Social functions Friday were the elementary luncheon at the Iron Exchange hotel, Miss Grace M. Longfellow, Minneapolis, presiding; also the tenth annual banquet of the Minnesota Teachers Training Alumni Association at the Methodist church.

What a fine lot of delegates one was heard to remark and he might have added what brings this fine body here. They have come from every corner of the state and for what purpose. Surely no Sunday school worker has any personal ends to gratify. What is it then?

These workers own their loyalty to the "Man of Galilee" and come here at their own expense for the most part, and return to their homes to busy themselves in service. They come that that service which they render may be the more efficient service.

And such a crowd they are. Good natured, jolly, they love to sing and they did make the opera house ring with their music. It is to be regretted that Brainerd has had no adequate auditorium to seat their big gatherings. All available standing room was taken at the opera house and the Seventh street Norwegian Lutheran church was well filled last night besides.

Sunday will be the great inspirational day and the program will be as follows:

General Sessions

Sunday Evening, April 11th.
THREE MASS MEETINGS
1. Opera House.

President J. H. Martin, Presiding.
7:30 Sacred Concert—Led by J. Lincoln Hall and Dr. Adam Geibel assisted by chorus of 75 voices.
7:50 Meditation—"Some New Thoughts on an Old Book" (f) The Highest Expression of the Christian Life, Dr. W. A. Brown, Chicago.

8:00 Address—"The Christian Athlete," Rev. F. H. Brigham, Neenah, Wis.
8:30 Lecture—"Stars," Margaret Slattery, Boston, Mass. Offering.

9:15 Closing Moments.

11. Bethlehem Lutheran church, Mr. Thos. Owens, Two Harbors, Presiding.

7:30 Song Service.
7:50 Devotions—Rev. M. L. Hostager, Brainerd.
8:00 Address—"The Adult Bible Class in Action," Mr. W. D. Stem, Des Moines, Iowa.
8:30 Address—Dr. W. A. Brown, Chicago. Offering.
Benediction.

DR. JOSEPH NICHOLSON

Why should Brainerd have this magnificent body of people as its guests when other cities would have been so glad to have had them?

Why has Brainerd never had this convention before?

In all the history of Brainerd it has never had a convention which exceeded the number of delegates expected, nor the great number she is entertaining today, and why?

Crow Wing County Sunday School Association has one of the best county organizations in the state and it is headed by Dr. Joseph Nicholson to whom the credit must be given for securing such a splendid working organization. Four years ago this county met but few of the requirements of the state. Today it complies with all of them. The result is more efficient workers in every school in the county which co-operates with the organization. This has meant work—lots of it by every member of the executive committee but the results are most pleasing to every worker.

How a German Submarine Sank the Falaba, When 140 Persons Were Lost

No fewer than 140 persons, including passengers and crew, went to their deaths when a German submarine attacked the British ship Falaba the other day. This drawing by A. W. Reddy, a well known marine artist, shows how the ship was attacked. Among those lost on her was Leon C. Thrasher, an American of Massachusetts, a mining engineer. "We have orders to sink everything," said the commander of the submarine U-10 which sank three British trawlers April 1.

That is the new German method of war, as shown in the sinking of the Falaba without notice, which resulted in the loss of so many lives. While the number of British ships sunk by the submarines is not large when, compared to the total amount of shipping from British ports, yet it is sufficient already to make many mariners pause. And it has been the cause of insurance rates going up. It is becoming the opinion of those who have watched the German operations that they purpose terrorizing

British commerce. If they continue to sink ships without warning so crews and passengers are lost, they figure it will have a more deterrent effect on commerce than the mere loss of ships and cargoes.

A. M. LOCKER

Those who have seen the Sunday school hosts who have invaded our city this week have perhaps thought little of the one who was responsible for the splendid organization of the Minnesota Sunday school workers.

A dozen of years ago the work of the state was but little organized. The financial condition of the organization was not good and there was no active secretary on the field.

The executive committee secured Mr. A. M. Locker, then superintendent of the public schools at Windom, Minn., to give such time to the work as he could spare from his duties.

In a year or two Mr. Locker had the work so well organized that the executive committee secured his services as general secretary and to devote all his time to the work.

Today the Minnesota Sunday School association is second to none in the United States. It is well organized and pushes the organization for efficiency into the smallest rural school and it may truthfully be said that while the organization has many splendid workers Mr. Locker has been the guiding hand which has brought the organization to its high efficiency.

A. M. LOCKER

Those who have seen the Sunday school hosts who have invaded our city this week have perhaps thought little of the one who was responsible for the splendid organization of the Minnesota Sunday school workers.

A dozen of years ago the work of the state was but little organized. The financial condition of the organization was not good and there was no active secretary on the field.

The executive committee secured Mr. A. M. Locker, then superintendent of the public schools at Windom, Minn., to give such time to the work as he could spare from his duties.

In a year or two Mr. Locker had the work so well organized that the executive committee secured his services as general secretary and to devote all his time to the work.

Today the Minnesota Sunday School association is second to none in the United States. It is well organized and pushes the organization or efficiency into the smallest rural school and it may truthfully be said that while the organization has many splendid workers Mr. Locker has been the guiding hand which has brought the organization to its high efficiency.

Margaret Slattery is the Great Attraction at Sunday School Convention

Miss Margaret Slattery, of Boston, Mass., is the great attraction at the state convention of the Minnesota Sunday School Association. Delegates are flocking to hear her and standing room is at a premium in all conferences and general sessions where she speaks.

The girls' conference opened in the Swedish Baptist church this morning with the church packed to the doors. Miss Slattery spoke in the forenoon and afternoon at the girls' conference. This evening, at 5:30, a banquet will be given at the Swedish Baptist church by the older girls' conference and already 200 applications for seats have been received. Miss Slattery makes the leading address at the banquet. Only girls between the ages of 15 and 19 years and teachers will be admitted.

Dr. R. W. Bowden, of St. Paul, state "teen age" superintendent, has general charge of the conference. Miss Blanche Atkins, a critic teacher of St. Cloud state normal school, presides at the conference and gives one of the leading addresses. Over 200 girls are now registered for the older girls' conference. It is one of the leading features of the convention. A permanent organization was effected last year at Winona and this is the second annual meeting.

Marion Lawrence, of Chicago, secretary of the international association, spoke to a crowded house at the Bethlehem Lutheran church last night. His messages Thursday and Friday nights were enthusiastically received by all delegates who were fortunate enough to hear him. He is the leading Sunday school man in the world today and has more Sunday school information at his finger tips than any other man in the Sunday school world. It has been a great privilege to Minnesota and its Sunday school association to hear him.

O. J. Bowman, of St. Paul, superintendent of the House of Hope Presbyterian Sunday school is creating enthusiasm in the administrative section of the state convention. He has shown that he is not an orthodox Sunday school man. Every one who hears him is benefited, for he knows the actual needs and conditions of the Sunday school world. Men of this type are making things move in the Sunday school world.

Delegates are still being registered at headquarters of the association. 952 delegates are registered from outside points and have paid their registration fee of $1. 400 local delegates from Brainerd and Crow Wing county are registered. Besides this, says A. M. Locker, general secretary, he is informed that 200 delegates are staying with friends and are attending the convention.

Each one of the 1500 or more delegates has been chosen by a Sunday school to represent that school at the convention. It is noticeable that delegates in every conference and general sessions are there for business with note book and pencil gathering every point worth while to take back to the local schools. It is a safe estimate to say that this convention will be reported to at least 500 schools distributed in every county of Minnesota.

At the concert this evening only delegates having convention badges will be admitted before 7:30. At that time the doors will be opened and the public generally admitted to the opera house. No overflow meetings will be held tonight.

Rheumatism Yields Quickly to Sloan's

You can't prevent an attack of Rheumatism from coming on, but you can stop it almost immediately. Sloan's Liniment gently applied to the sore joint or muscle penetrates in a few minutes to the inflamed spot that causes the pain. It soothes the hot, tender, swollen feeling, and in a very short time brings a relief that is almost unbelievable until you experience it. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c. of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.—tts

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the General Secretary

To the Board of Directors of the Minnesota Sunday School Association
April 9th, 1915

The fifty-seventh milestone of the Minnesota Sunday School Association marks the closing of the most successful year along all lines of Sunday School activities in the history of the association. We have many reasons to be grateful to the Heavenly Father for the blessings of the past year. The Bible Schools have been blessed in their effort to become more efficient in meeting the spiritual needs of the membership.

Every county in Minnesota has now a permanent organization and holds an Annual Convention. Every County is divided into districts—the schools being conveniently grouped for the purpose of holding Conventions. SIXTY Counties have held ALL their District Conventions and all but six have held part of the District Conventions.

The real work of our Association is done through the District Associations. Each County is divided into two or more Districts. Each District has ten officers and department superintendents who live in the District and most of them take a vital interest in their work. We have an average of forty County and District Officers in every County of the State who give one week of their time to organized Sunday school work. This is equivalent to seventy field workers on full time working for nothing and paying their own expenses.

We are not making a detailed report of any department nor of the statistics of finances for the year. It is impossible to make a complete report of the year's work until after the close of the Convention.

A complete report of the year's work will appear in the May number of the Minnesota Sunday School Herald. It will be sent to all delegates who have paid the registration fee of $1.00. Every delegates should be a regular subscriber.

We urge every delegate to study our State map. Notice the points of the County Standard opposite your County that lack a Blue Seal. Get in touch with your County and District Officers and help put in one. REMEMBER WE MUST BE A BLUE RIBBON STATE IN 1917. It cannot be accomplished without effort. Now is the time to begin. To help our workers accomplish the task, we have set the following:

GOAL FOR 1915-1916

1. Seventy-five Counties Blue Ribbon

Last year at Winona we had forty counties in the Blue Ribbon class. Four of this number have failed to hold their position—due largely to removal of efficient officers. However, we are glad to state that twelve new ones have crossed the line and taken their position on the Blue Ribbon side—making a total now of forty-eight. Many others have done excellent work and deserve credit but failed in a few points.

2. 300,000 Enrolled in the Sunday Schools

Our Sunday School enrollment will not exceed 250,000 for the past year. During 1914 we had approximately 500,000 scholars between the ages of five and twenty-one enrolled in the public schools of Minnesota. One-fourth of the Sunday school enrollment are adults over twenty-one years of age. This leaves only 190,000 scholars of public school age in the Sunday school and 310,000 scholars of public school age who are not receiving religious instruction in the Protestant Sunday schools of Minnesota. We are aiming at a 20 per cent increase. It ought to be done.

3. 1300 Cradle Rolls.

At the Triennial Convention at Chicago, June 1914, we reported 1100 Cradle Rolls with 22,000 members. We are ready this year to take as our Standard 1300 Cradle Rolls with a membership of 26,000. The largest Roll in Minnesota numbers 232 members. Several schools report a Roll of one member each. The success of a Cradle Roll is not measured by its size but rather by the service which it renders to the home and to the child—linking the little one to the church from the earliest moment. The Cradle Roll spells OPPORTUNITY.

4. 900 Home Departments.

We now have only 650 Home Departments. This means an increase of 250 or an increase of three for each County. This ought not be a difficult task. Home Bible study, daily Bible reading and family prayer need no commendation. Every Christian knows their value. Every O. A. B. C. should have a list of associate members who cannot attend the Sunday session of the class. This should be the basis of a working Home Department.

5. 12,000 Accessions to the Church.

We have approximately 25,000 officers and teachers in the Sunday schools of our State. If two officials and teachers working together win one to Christ and the church we will more than make our goal. This does not seem to be too great a task to set for our Christian workers. Unless we get results, we have no right to exist as an organization.

We lose three-fourths of those who do attend between the ages of thirteen and nineteen years. Only two out of five unite with the church. In 1910 the Protestant churches of North America gained 384,000. It took 160,000 churches, 17,000,000 members and $250,000,000 to get them; or fifty-four church members working a year at a cost of $650 to get one accession to the church.

Let the wheels of our machinery move by the power of the Holy Spirit and show the effectiveness of our organization by results that count for the Kingdom. We must be a mighty evangelistic force to increase the number of believers in the old Gospel.

6. 6000 Teachers Training Students and 600 Graduates

This means an average of three students from each Sunday school and should not be an impossible task. Every department of the church is included in the enrollment. It is the future church in training—Ministers of the Gospel, lawyers, physicians, college professors, school teachers, high school scholars, clerks, domestics, bookkeepers, mechanics, normal students, college students. We have testimonies from all classes that the course of study has been a great help in living nobler lives and giving the church and humanity better service. No better service can our Association render churches of Minnesota than to enlist 6000 Christian people in a training course.

7. 1200 "Teen Age" Classes Enrolled

We now have 950 "Teen Age" Bible classes organized and enrolled. It ought not to be a difficult task to secure 250 additional classes. It means an average increase of three to each County. No one denies the value of an organization that will set young people in the church at work. The plan that will seek to discover the kind of work each can do and set them to work is practical. The "Teen Age" has been sadly neglected in the Sunday school and church. It has been so easy to say "Don't" to our young people that we have been saying it for several centuries. It is time we are learning to say "Do" even if it takes more time and brains to say it.

8. 1000 Organized Adult Bible Classes Enrolled

We have nearly reached our goal of eight hundred O. A. B. Classes and we feel confident that the goal set can be reached. We are emphasizing class organization because no definite work can be accomplished until that is done. While we have expended some energy in securing numbers, we have not forgotten the Standard of Service to develop the efficiency of classes already organized. It is through the Organized Bible Classes that the sermons of the Pastor are lived and worked out in the community through the Christian men and women of the Church. Many of the classes are discovering their true relationship to the boys and girls of the community. The Organized Bible Class movement will reach its true place in the work of the Kingdom when every Christian in the Church will have been discovered to himself and set at the task he is best fitted to perform.

9. 5000 Subscriptions to the Herald.

The Herald is published for the benefit of the Sunday school workers of Minnesota. While it is primarily for those interested in organized Sunday school work, yet our aim is to give practical suggestions for all lines of Sunday school activity.

It was published by the Syndicate at Chicago for three years but the plan was not a success and hereafter it will be published at home. It will be mailed to subscribers on the 1st of every month.

We are trying to make it helpful to all officers and teachers of the Sunday school. If each delegate at this Convention will get five new subscribers at twenty-five cents each, we will be glad to mail it to each delegate free for one year. If you are willing to try to help us get five from your school or community, please write your name and address on a blank card handed you.

10. A Sunday School Visitation Day in Every County in the State

At the suggestion of Mr. Mark G. Holtzman, City Secretary of Minneapolis, a Sunday School Visitation Day was appointed for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth in January last. Nearly two hundred schools were visited by District and County Officers on one Sunday in Minneapolis and one hundred forty in St. Paul. We suggest that the fourth or last Sunday in September be designated as State Sunday School Visitation Day.

11. An Increased Field and Office Force to Care for the Work.

Our Field Force at present consists of the General Secretary, Mr. R. W. Bowden, General Field Worker and "Teen Age" Superintendent and Mrs. Jean E. Hobart, Temperance and Missionary Superintendent. An Office Secretary and two assistants constitute the office force and Miss Grace M. Longfellow who directs the work of the Elementary Division from her office in Minneapolis.

We need two additional men for the field—one for Northern Minnesota and another for Southern Minnesota—who will assist the County and District Officers in promoting the work in their respective fields. We also need two additional helpers in the office to properly care for the work.

It is the policy of our Board of Directors to plan the work of the year in harmony with the size of the budget available for the work. Our plans for the coming year will depend on the liberality of our constituents.

12. A Budget of $15,000 to Promote the Work.

The expenditures do not exceed our budget. We fit our garment by the size of the cloth. Our budget last year was $12,500. Our treasurer will report a balance on the right side of the ledger. We receive about $6,500 from County Apportionment; $2500 from the Extension Fund and $3500 from personal subscription. If the $15,000 budget is adopted there must be an increase of $3500 in the personal subscriptions. It can easily be secured if our workers will get under the load and give us hearty support.

We are convinced that we have the most economical plan of doing Christian work of any organization in existence and should have the full sympathy and co-operation of every Christian man and woman in Minnesota.

AN APPRECIATION

It would not be fitting to close this brief report without a few words of commendation for the large army of volunteer workers in Minnesota who make this report possible. Were it not for the host of County and District Officers and Department Superintendents and their faithful service we would have nothing to report. Words are such empty things with which to express our thanks to the thousands of true and loyal Sunday school workers of Minnesota. You can never be fittingly rewarded here for the self-sacrifice and loyal service. We pray that the Heavenly Father's choicest blessings may ever accompany you in all your efforts.

DR. R. W. BOWDEN, St. Paul.

Dr. Bowden has been connected with the State Sunday School Association since September first, as its superintendent and general field worker. He has endeared himself in the hearts of the Sunday school workers of Minnesota. His addition to the state will mean much to the future Sunday school work of the North Star state.

MISS MABEL BAILEY, Neenah, Wis.

Elementary Superintendent of Wisconsin Sunday School Association. Miss Bailey is making good in her own state and has a host of friends among the elementary workers in Minnesota. They appreciate her helpful suggestions and fine spirit of co-operation.

BAY LAKE NEWS

John Nelson returned from Mora, Minn., Tuesday, where he has been transacting business.

The meeting of the Willing Workers is postponed to be held at Mrs. Frank Fuller's April seventh.

We are sorry to hear that the Maust baby has been sick, but it is now improving.

Roy Norton has purchased a new cream separator.

Myrtle Lamont returned from Motley last Friday.

Mrs. George Sinclair is visiting friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gmahl, Miss Ella Reynolds, Andrew and Lillie Anderson and Axel Peterson visited at C. E. Sutton's Sunday evening.

Al and Hector Lamont were in town Saturday.

C. F. Maust was in town last Tuesday.

Puehah Gage has been sick for a while.

Henningsons were in town Sunday to attend church.

The Food Value of Cream of Barley

CREAM OF BARLEY is the right food for every stomach. It contains the greatest amount of gluten—real health.

CREAM OF BARLEY is not a heavy food—nor is it a light food, lacking in proper nourishment. It is a substantial food—a satisfying food, meeting the requirements of every stomach—every system—every age.

Cream of Barley

is not a medicine, but it supplies the correct nourishment—replenishes the depleted nerve force—repairs the wasted tissues—enriches the blood and makes bone and muscle.

After eating CREAM OF BARLEY for breakfast you feel strengthened and ready for your daily task.

CREAM OF BARLEY does not overtax the digestive organs—does not excite them to vigorous activity and then fail to supply the proper nourishment.

He has shown that he is not an orthodox Sunday school man. Every one who hears him is benefited, for he knows the actual needs and conditions of the Sunday school world. Men of this type are making things move in the Sunday school world.

Delegates are still being registered at headquarters of the association. 952 delegates are registered from outside points and have paid their registration fee of $1. 400 local delegates from Brainerd and Crow Wing county are registered. Besides this, says A. M. Locker, general secretary, he is informed that 200 delegates are staying with friends and are attending the convention.

Each one of the 1500 or more delegates has been chosen by a Sunday school to represent that school at the convention. It is noticeable that delegates in every conference and general sessions are there for business with note book and pencil gathering every point worth while to take back to the local schools. It is a safe estimate to say that this convention will be reported to at least 500 schools distributed in every county of Minnesota.

At the concert this evening only delegates having convention badges will be admitted before 7:30. At that time the doors will be opened and the public generally admitted to the opera house. No overflow meetings will be held tonight.

Rheumatism Yields Quickly to Sloan's

You can't prevent an attack of rheumatism from coming on, but you can stop it almost immediately. Sloan's Liniment gently applied to the sore joint or muscle penetrates in a few minutes to the inflamed spot that causes the pain. It soothes the hot, tender, swollen feeling, and in a very short time brings a relief that is almost unbelievable until you experience it. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c. of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.—tts.

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the General Secretary

To the Board of Directors of the Minnesota Sunday School Association
April 9th, 1915

The fifty-seventh milestone of the Minnesota Sunday School Association marks the closing of the most successful year along all lines of Sunday School activities in the history of the association. We have many reasons to be grateful to the Heavenly Father for the blessings of the past year. The Bible Schools have been blessed in their effort to become more efficient in meeting the spiritual needs of the membership.

Every county in Minnesota has now a permanent organization and holds an Annual Convention. Every County is divided into districts—the schools being conveniently grouped for the purpose of holding Conventions. SIXTY Counties have held ALL their District Conventions and all but six have held part of the District Conventions.

The real work of our Association is done through the District Associations. Each County is divided into two or more Districts. Each District has ten officers and department superintendents who live in the District and most of them take a vital interest in their work. We have an average of forty County and District Officers in every County of the State who give one week of their time to organized Sunday school work. This is equivalent to seventy field workers on full time working for nothing and paying their own expenses.

We are not making a detailed report of any department nor of the statistics of finances for the year. It is impossible to make a complete report of the year's work until after the close of the Convention.

A complete report of the year's work will appear in the May number of the Minnesota Sunday School Herald. It will be sent to all delegates who have paid the registration fee of $1.00. Every delegates should be a regular subscriber.

We urge every delegate to study our State map. Notice the points of the County Standard opposite your County that lack a Blue Seal. Get in touch with your County and District Officers and help put in one. REMEMBER WE MUST BE A BLUE RIBBON STATE IN 1917. It cannot be accomplished without effort. Now is the time to begin. To help our workers accomplish the task, we have set the following:

1. Seventy-five Counties Blue Ribbon

Last year at Winona we had forty counties in the Blue Ribbon class. Four of this number have failed to hold their position—due largely to removal of efficient officers. However, we are glad to state that twelve new ones have crossed the line and taken their position on the Blue Ribbon side—making a total now of forty-eight. Many others have done excellent work and deserve credit but failed in a few points.

2. 300,000 Enrolled in the Sunday Schools

Our Sunday School enrollment will not exceed 250,000 for the past year. During 1914 we had approximately 500,000 scholars between the ages of five and twenty-one enrolled in the public schools of Minnesota. One-fourth of the Sunday school enrollment are adults over twenty-one years of age. This leaves only 190,000 scholars of public school age in the Sunday school and 310,000 scholars of public school age who are not receiving religious instruction in the Protestant Sunday schools of Minnesota. We are aiming at a 20 per cent increase. It ought to be done.

3. 1300 Cradle Rolls.

At the Triennial Convention at Chicago, June 1914, we reported 1100 Cradle Rolls with 22,000 members. We are ready this year to take as our Standard 1300 Cradle Rolls with a membership of 26,000. The largest Roll in Minnesota numbers 232 members. Several schools report a Roll of one member each. The success of a Cradle Roll is not measured by its size but rather by the service which it renders to the home and to the child—linking the little one to the church from the earliest moment. The Cradle Roll spells OPPORTUNITY.

4. 900 Home Departments.

We now have only 650 Home Departments. This means an increase of 250 or an increase of three for each County. This ought not be a difficult task. Home Bible study, daily Bible reading and family prayer need no commendation. Every Christian knows their value. Every O. A. B. C. should have a list of associate members who cannot attend the Sunday session of the class. This should be the basis of a working Home Department.

5. 12,000 Accessions to the Church.

We have approximately 25,000 officers and teachers in the Sunday schools of our State. If two officials and teachers working together win one to Christ and the church we will more than make our goal. This does not seem to be too great a task to set for our Christian workers. Unless we get results, we have no right to exist as an organization.

We lose three-fourths of those who do attend between the ages of thirteen and nineteen years. Only two out of five unite with the church. In 1910 the Protestant churches of North America gained 384,000. It took 160,000 churches, 17,000,000 members and $250,000,000 to get them; or fifty-four church members working a year at a cost of $650 to get one accession to the church.

Let the wheels of our machinery move by the power of the Holy Spirit and show the effectiveness of our organization by results that count for the Kingdom. We must be a mighty evangelistic force to increase the number of believers in the old Gospel.

6. 6000 Teachers Training Students and 600 Graduates

This means an average of three students from each Sunday school and should not be an impossible task. Every department of the church is included in the enrollment. It is the future church in training—Ministers of the Gospel, lawyers, physicians, college professors, school teachers, high school scholars, clerks, domestics, bookkeepers, mechanics, normal students, college students. We have testimonies from all classes that the course of study has been a great help in living nobler lives and giving the church and humanity better service. No better service can our Association render churches of Minnesota than to enlist 6000 Christian people in a training course.

7. 1200 "Teen Age" Classes Enrolled

We now have 950 "Teen Age" Bible classes organized and enrolled. It ought not to be a difficult task to secure 250 additional classes. It means an average increase of three to each County. No one denies the value of an organization that will set young people in the church at work. The plan that will seek to discover the kind of work each can do and set them to work is practical. The "Teen Age" has been sadly neglected in the Sunday school and church. It has been so easy to say "Don't" to our young people that we have been saying it for several centuries. It is time we are learning to say "Do" even if it takes more time and brains to say it.

8. 1000 Organized Adult Bible Classes Enrolled

We have nearly reached our goal of eight hundred O. A. B. Classes and we feel confident that the goal set can be reached. We are emphasizing class organization because no definite work can be accomplished until that is done. While we have expended some energy in securing numbers, we have not forgotten the Standard of Service to develop the efficiency of classes already organized. It is through the Organized Bible Classes that the sermons of the Pastor are lived and worked out in the community through the Christian men and women of the Church. Many of the classes are discovering their true relationship to the boys and girls of the community. The Organized Bible Class movement will reach its true place in the work of the Kingdom when every Christian in the Church will have been discovered to himself and set at the task he is best fitted to perform.

9. 5000 Subscriptions to the Herald.

The Herald is published for the benefit of the Sunday school workers of Minnesota. While it is primarily for those interested in organized Sunday school work, yet our aim is to give practical suggestions for all lines of Sunday school activity.

It was published by the Syndicate at Chicago for three years but the plan was not a success and hereafter it will be published at home. It will be mailed to subscribers on the 1st of every month.

We are trying to make it helpful to all officers and teachers of the Sunday school. If each delegate at this Convention will get five new subscribers at twenty-five cents each, we will be glad to mail it to each delegate free for one year. If you are willing to try to help us get five from your school or community, please write your name and address on a blank card handed you.

10. A Sunday School Visitation Day in Every County in the State

At the suggestion of Mr. Mark G. Holtzman, City Secretary of Minneapolis, a Sunday School Visitation Day was appointed for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth in January last. Nearly two hundred schools were visited by District and County Officers on one Sunday in Minneapolis and one hundred forty in St. Paul. We suggest that the fourth or last Sunday in September be designated as State Sunday School Visitation Day.

11. An Increased Field and Office Force to Care for the Work.

Our Field Force at present consists of the General Secretary, Mr. R. W. Bowden, General Field Worker and "Teen Age" Superintendent and Mrs. Jean E. Hobart, Temperance and Missionary Superintendent. An Office Secretary and two assistants constitute the office force and Miss Grace M. Longfellow who directs the work of the Elementary Division from her office in Minneapolis.

We need two additional men for the field—one for Northern Minnesota and another for Southern Minnesota—who will assist the County and District Officers in promoting the work in their respective fields. We also need two additional helpers in the office to properly care for the work.

It is the policy of our Board of Directors to plan the work of the year in harmony with the size of the budget available for the work. Our plans for the coming year will depend on the liberality of our constituents.

12. A Budget of $15,000 to Promote the Work.

The expenditures do not exceed our budget. We fit our garment by the size of the cloth. Our budget last year was $12,500. Our treasurer will report a balance on the right side of the ledger. We receive about $6,500 from County Apportionment; $2,500 from the Extension Fund and $3,500 from personal subscription. If the $15,000 budget is adopted there must be an increase of $3,500 in the personal subscriptions. It can easily be secured if our workers will get under the load and give us hearty support.

We are convinced that we have the most economical plan of doing Christian work of any organization in existence and should have the full sympathy and co-operation of every Christian man and woman in Minnesota.

AN APPRECIATION

It would not be fitting to close this brief report without a few words of commendation for the large army of volunteer workers in Minnesota who make this report possible. Were it not for the host of County and District Officers and Department Superintendents and their faithful service we would have nothing to report. Words are such empty things with which to express our thanks to the thousands of true and loyal Sunday school workers of Minnesota. You can never be fittingly rewarded here for the self-sacrifice and loyal service. We pray that the Heavenly Father's choicest blessings may ever accompany you in all your efforts.

DR. R. W. BOWDEN, St. Paul.

Dr. Bowden has been connected with the State Sunday School Association since September first, as its superintendent and general field worker. He has endeared himself in the hearts of the Sunday school workers of Minnesota. His addition to the state will mean much to the future Sunday school work of the North Star state.

MISS MABEL BAILEY, Neenah, Wis.

Elementary Superintendent of Wisconsin Sunday School Association

Miss Bailey is making good in her own state and has a host of friends among the elementary workers in Minnesota. They appreciate her helpful suggestions and fine spirit of co-operation.

The Food Value of Cream of Barley

CREAM OF BARLEY is the right food for every stomach. It contains the greatest amount of gluten—real health.

CREAM OF BARLEY is not a heavy food—nor is it a light food, lacking in proper nourishment. It is a substantial food—a satisfying food, meeting the requirements of every stomach—every system—every age.

Cream of Barley

is not a medicine, but it supplies the correct nourishment—replenishes the depleted nerve force—repairs the wasted tissues—enriches the blood and makes bone and muscle.

After eating CREAM OF BARLEY for breakfast you feel strengthened and ready for your daily task.

CREAM OF BARLEY does not overtax the digestive organs—does not excite them to vigorous activity and then fail to supply the proper nourishment.

MINNESOTA BIRD LIFE

Dr. T. S. Roberts of Minneapolis, will Lecture at the Columbia Theatre

Dr. T. S. Roberts, of Minneapolis; Minnesota's member on the advisory council for the National Audubon society, will give a lecture on Minnesota bird life, Monday afternoon, April 12, at the Columbia theater. This is free to the school children. On Monday evening he will give a talk at the Chamber of Commerce, to which both ladies and gentlemen are invited.

Both lectures will be illustrated by slides which the doctor has personally taken. Dr. Roberts has been connected with the bird work at the state university for years and has often talked before the women's clubs of the state. He comes here through the courtesy of the directors of the Children's Hour. The bird houses built by the manual training boys will be exhibited at the Chamber of Commerce.

VILLA FORCES BADLY DEFEATED

(By United Press)
Washington, April 10—The Carranza agency this afternoon issued a statement as follows: Villa, after a shameful defeat administered by our forces in full retreat, passing through Salamanuca with eighteen train loads of soldiers, five of them containing wounded. Many troops deserted him. We buried over two thousand Villa dead soldiers left on the battle fields. He claims his defeat was due to humanitarian instincts. We claim his defeat was due to his inability in directing operations, and his total disregard for the safety of his soldiers. On account of his useless charges hundreds of soldiers perished without accomplishing anything. When he was notified his soldiers were attempting to avert danger, he killed several found seeking safety.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS NOTES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 10—The teachers pension act as passed by the house has been made a special order in the senate Tuesday afternoon.

The sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee slightly amended and recommended for passage the Van Hoven abatement repeal bill.

The bill providing for a woman's reformatory passed the senate. It already has passed the house. It gives the board of control the power to select the site and make plans.

The bill authorizing party conventions before the primaries was passed by the senate by a vote of thirty-eight to twenty. The bill providing a new national guard armory at New Ulm also passed the senate.

AUSTRIA OFFERS SEPARATE PEACE

(By United Press)
Rome, April 10—Dispatches from Petrograd state that Austria has made overtures of separate peace to Russia. To cede Herzegovina, Bosnia and Galicia to Russia is included in the proposition, but the retention of Trentino, Istria and Transylvania is insisted on.

Austria has abandoned the offensive against Serbia and will remain strictly on the defensive.

RECENT STATEMENT ROILS GERMANS

(By United Press)
Berlin, April 10—The German government has asked the United States to investigate the treatment of the crews of the German submarines held in England and ascertain whether they are being treated dishonorably or as prisoners of war. The government is dissatisfied with Sir Edward Grey's recent statement of the treatment of submariners.

CHATEAU BRIAND SUNK THURSDAY

(By United Press)
London, April 10—The French battle Chateau Briand, bound from London to New York, was torpedoed and sunk Thursday off the Isle of Wight, the crew of 24 being landed after more than 24 hours of severe weather. The bark was drifting along when the submarine appeared, gave the crew ten minutes in which to embark, then shot the torpedo and left without offering assistance.

WILL NOT ACCEPT GERMAN CLAIM

(By United Press)
Washington, April 10—The state department will not accept the German claim as violating the spirit of neutrality for permitting the exportation of arms by the allies.

RUSSIA WILL HOLD EVERY GATE WAY

(By United Press)
Petrograd, April 10—Through sheer exhaustion the opposing armies at the Carpathians have halted operations after a fortnight of the most desperate mountain fighting known to the world's history. The fighting is lulled everywhere except in the Swan Valley where the Russian left wing has clashed with the Austro-Germans fifteen miles from the railroad leading from the Uszok pass. Within ten days the Russians will hold every gateway through the Carpathians into Hungary for a front of 80 miles is the prediction of the officials. The Germans are active again through the Pilica Rawka region of Poland.

SATURDAY SALES RECORDS SMASHED

(By United Press)
New York, April 10—Unprecedented scenes this afternoon marked the two hours session of the stock market. Through the deafening din the brokers were fighting to execute orders, the tumult being unparalleled for years. Professional bulls and bears lost their powers to sway the market through heavy outsiders buying. The market closed irregularly and all records for Saturdays' sales were smashed.

LINE RETAINED AT ST. MIHIEL

(By United Press)
Berlin, April 10—A report from the war department says that a great battle is being waged between Meuse and Moselle with undiminished violence. The French attacking at St. Mihiel are retaining their lines, but have met with severe losses. Near Pontemousson, where the enemy suffered severe losses, their attacks are diminishing.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand
"The Prayer of a Horse" tonight, has brought forth a photoplay, which for originality of plot and execution, takes the same rank in the moving picture world as the novel, "Black Beauty," does in the world of books devoted to the portraying of life from dumb beasts' point of view.

Also "All Aboard," a two reel Nestor comedy.

Our Sunday bill, "Guardian Angel" 2 reel drama. Death of Simon Legree and Animated Weekly containing war news of the week. Every night five reels for 5 and 10 cents.

Your Child's Cough is a Call for Help
Don't put off treating your child's cough. It not only saps their strength, but often leads to more serious ailments. Why risk you don't have to. Dr. King's New Discovery is just the remedy your child needs. It is made with soothing, healing and antiseptic balsams. Will quickly check the cold and soothe your child's cough away. No odds how bad the cough or how long standing. Dr. King's New Discovery will stop it. It's guaranteed. Just get a bottle from your druggist and try it.—Advt.

Summer Fabrics Once More

Our summer fabrics are so pretty and so authentic that we again bring them to your attention.

The Printed Rice Voils Are most attractive. The fabric is pretty and then they are printed in the daintiest of designs. This is an unusually popular line this year.

The Printed Silk Fabrics Some new ones in the sand and putty shades received this week. These are very fine for evening wear.

$100 REWARD. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Dr. T. S. Roberts, of Minneapolis; Minnesota's member on the advisory council for the National Audubon society, will give a lecture on Minnesota bird life, Monday afternoon, April 12, at the Columbia theater. This is free to the school children. On Monday evening he will give a talk at the Chamber of Commerce, to which both ladies and gentlemen are invited.

Both lectures will be illustrated by slides which the doctor has personally taken. Dr. Roberts has been connected with the bird work at the state university for years and has often talked before the women's clubs of the state. He comes here through the courtesy of the directors of the Children's Hour. The bird houses built by the manual training boys will be exhibited at the Chamber of Commerce.

Both lectures are free and give promise of being a rare treat to those interested in our feathered friends.

VILLA FORCES BADLY DEFEATED

(By United Press)
Washington, April 10—The Carranza agency this afternoon issued a statement as follows: Villa, after a shameful defeat administered by our forces is in full retreat, passing through Salamanca with eighteen train loads of soldiers, five of them containing wounded. Many troops deserted him. We buried over two thousand Villa dead soldiers left on the battle fields. He claims his defeat was due to humanitarian instincts. We claim his defeat was due to his inability in directing operations, and his total disregard for the safety of his soldiers. On account of his useless charges hundreds of soldiers perished without accomplishing anything. When he was attempting his soldiers were attempting to avert danger, he killed several found seeking safety.

THE MASTER KEY

By John Fleming Wilson

By special arrangement for this paper a photo-drama corresponding to the installments of "The Master Key" may now be seen at the leading moving picture theaters. By arrangement made with the Universal Film Manufacturing company it is not only possible to read "The Master Key" in this paper, but also afterward to see moving pictures of our story.

Mrs. Darnell looked at Faversham with her tawny eyes filled with dull embers of passion. Everett sat as if stunned.

"So John Dorr gets the kicks and you get the halfpence!" said Wilkerson wildly. "I have cursed him, but all my curses couldn't have punished him worse. Why," he went on half hysterically, "the poor fool loves her!" Again silence.

This time Everett broke it, saying stiffly: "You understand our proposition. Do you accept it?"

Mrs. Darnell laid her hand on Wilkerson's arm, and he seemed to fall into a profound reverie.

They could see the lights and shadows flit over his saturnine visage, the sparkle of his eyes dying into a mere dreamy glow, the sudden tightening of his thin lips, the working of his hands.

Finally he roused himself as by an effort.

"I think I ought to have more," he said quietly. "There are signs of gold on one part of this property which has never been worked. It is nowhere near the place marked in the plans, as you will easily see. You understand that Tom Gallon and I were partners when he located that rich ore. Never mind. Bygones are bygones. But I want $50,000 and that little claim. It may not amount to anything, but then again it may. Fifty thousand is soon spent. A mine is a mine."

"The plans!" demanded Sir Donald. Wilkerson pulled out of his shirt bosom an oilskin folded around a square paper. He laid this on the table.

"There they are," he said, as though driven to bay.

Mrs. Darnell's movement of protest did not escape either Everett or Faversham. They looked at the little packet that had cost so much agony and bloodshed.

"It is a gentleman's agreement," said Sir Donald presently, taking out his check book.

The money passed, and then Everett picked up the oilskin packet and put it in his pocket.

"The deeds and the master key," he said gently.

Mrs. Darnell's face became splendid in its furtive rage. She tore the ribbon from about her throbbing throat and flung the key on the table.

Sir Donald picked it up carefully and rose. At the same moment Everett pocketed the deeds and started for the door.

He and Faversham passed out into the starry night and vanished, leaving Wilkerson still at the desk fumbling the check.

Suddenly he reached for pen and ink and scrawled his name on the back.

Then he silently handed it to Jean Darnell, biting her red lips and moving almost imperceptibly, like an animal about to spring.

She took the bit of paper and tucked it in her bosom. Then she turned on her companion. He met her fiery gaze coldly.

"The mother lode is on that little bit I got them to give us," he said calmly. "The plans Everett has are false."

And the look that she allowed him to see in her eyes was such as no other man had ever seen there. It was as if her tortured and lonely, proud soul had found its mate in some darkness made lurid by the flames of hell.

Sir Donald spoke a brief good night to Everett when they had left the office and turned toward the bungalow, leaving the other to go up to where the light burned in John Dorr's cabin and tell him of the events of the evening.

He met Ruth at the door and quietly told her that all was well. She looked up at him with her great eyes filled with unshed tears and he bent over her a little.

Then he drew out the master key and put the ribbon over her head until the dull brass shone on her white throat.

"You are once more the mistress of the master key," he said gently, "and of my heart."

Something in her expression told him he had said enough. With a cheerful word he went away.

But the next day Sir Donald renewed his wooing in such a fashion that Ruth was sorely put to it to keep him from demanding such caresses as her engagement made him rightfully ask for.

The hardest part was that she perceived that John Dorr now knew that she was to marry Sir Donald.

He did not know, nor ever would, what that marriage was the price of.

Everett, of course, had quietly introduced Sir Donald's assertion of his new relation to Ruth into his narrative of what had occurred in the office.

John had taken the blow steadily, but he was not one to walk in the dark. He sought out Ruth and in a few words drew from her the truth.

"Now we all know where we stand,"

John said bravely, smiling at her. "But I—I thought you loved me too," she murmured.

"That doesn't alter the matter," he said comfortingly. "Now I must get to work. I've lots to do. Wilkerson has already started work around the spur, and I must begin driving into the place where your father found that rich vein. We may drift into it any day."

Naturally enough the two camps kept pretty much to themselves, but Tom Kane carried the gossip to John Dorr, evidently in an effort to distract his mind.

The old cook knew that John's heart was breaking, and between his love for each of them he was himself hard pressed to maintain a cheerful countenance.

"Wilkerson's impatient as ever," he told John one afternoon. "He can't wait on tunneling and such, but he's going to blow the whole face of his hill right off. Told his men that dynamite was better than pick and shovel."

"Well," said John, "that may prove all right. At least he'll get a notion of what formation he has to deal with."

Later that same day Kane announced that Wilkerson was going to set off the biggest battery of shots ever tried in the valley.

As a consequence Faversham, Ruth, John, Everett and many others went across the gulch toward evening to watch the show.

Old Tom Kane wagged his gray head doubtfully as he related how much dynamite had been planted and how Wilkerson's men were actually too nervous to work any longer.

They Saw Man After Man Come Down the Hill Till Only Wilkerson Was Left.

"He has to fix the fuses and fire the shots himself," he said.

True enough, they saw man after man come down the hill till only Wilkerson was left.

Ruth noticed that he worked rapidly and with an occasional glance down toward Mrs. Darnell, who stood near a big rock shading her eyes against the evening sun.

At last the work was apparently done, and Wilkerson waved his arms. At that signal there was a general rush for cover.

Then the man straightened himself up as if master of the demons hidden at his feet, and waved his hand to the woman watching him from below; then he stooped.

An instant later there was a terrific explosion, and a smoky gap appeared halfway up the hillside.

At the foot of the slope lay the body of Wilkerson, tossed there as one might toss an old hat. The smoke on the hill eddied and swirled.

No one stirred. There were a dozen other unexploded shots in that hillside, any one of which would bring the toppling crest downward.

With white faces they held their breath. Wilkerson's body twitched slightly, the only moving thing in that amphitheater.

Then there was a wild scream, filled with terror, with passion, with flaming and awful desire, and Jean Darnell ran over the rubble toward the smoking hill, crying:

"Harry! Harry!"

A dozen men started to run to drag her back, and a hundred voices muttered warnings that held them in their tracks.

Jean reached the body and hung herself on it; then she rose and stared up at the great rocky crest.

Did she hear the roar of voices calling to her to flee while there was time? Did she see the death that hung above her. If she did she despised it.

In this final cataclysm her wild heart broke through the bonds of this selfish existence and flung her a full passioned sacrifice on the body of the man who had loved her and given her his all—honor and life!

In the quick silence they who watched heard a single, full-throated cry:

"Harry! Harry!"

Then the mountain roared into the air, and the avalanche of rock poured over the two lovers in wave after wave till it had buried them forever.

And as explosion after explosion rocked the earth and filled the evening sky with lurid debris Ruth struggled from Sir Donald's detaining grasp and fled into the arms of John Dorr, where she clung, sobbing:

"John! John!"

Sir Donald looked at John Dorr's transfixed face and heard that cry, meant for lover's ears alone.

Very steadily he turned away and stared up at the terrific cataclysm which had united both the darkling hearted and golden youth.

He found the cook beside him, his gray locks streaming in the gusts of wind from the blasts. He pointed with his stick to a piece of rock that rolled to their feet, and in the dull stillness that followed the terrific uproar he said:

"I really believe, Mr. Kane, that we have uncovered the gold we have looked for so long."

And Tom Kane reached down and picked up the nugget and stared at it. Then he turned to the white-faced gentleman beside him.

"The Master Key!" the old man muttered.

"Yes," returned Sir Donald quietly, "it unlocks strange doors."

DOUBLY PROVEN

Brainerd Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Brainerd citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Mrs. Charles Erickson, 1103 E. Oak St., Brainerd, says "I suffered from weak kidneys for two or three years. I had dull pains through the small of my back that kept me in poor health. I also had headaches and dizzy spells. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and used them regularly. They made me feel much better in every way." (Statement given August 31, 1908.)

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Erickson said: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally for attacks of backache and have always found relief." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Erickson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

TO SET TRIAL DATE SOON

Alleged Dynamiters Plead Not Guilty to Murder Charge.

Los Angeles, April 9.—Dates for the trials of Matthew A. Schmidt and David Caplan, alleged dynamite conspirators, will be set Tuesday, Judge Frank Willis of the criminal branch of the superior court said after attorneys for the two men had entered pleas of not guilty to the charge of murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building Oct. 1, 1910.

INITIATIVE FOR SUFFRAGE

Resubmission of "Dry" Amendment Also to Be Sought.

Bismarck, N. D., April 10.—Women's suffrage and resubmission of the dry constitutional amendment will be voted upon by the people of North Dakota at the next general election. Both questions will be submitted through initiative petitions.

Suffrage forces will have no trouble obtaining the required petitions, 10 per cent of the voters, in a majority of the counties of the state. As for the resubmissionists the problem of procuring petitioners in sufficient number is a task of far greater proportions.

GUGGENHEIM MUST ANSWER

Mining Magnate Can't Dodge Question Regarding Divorce.

New York, April 10.—William Guggenheim, capitalist and copper mine owner, was directed by the appellate division of the supreme court to answer before a referee certain questions intended to make clear whether, in 1901, he and his lawyer, Louis Werner, had conspired to obtain a divorce for Guggenheim fraudulently in Chicago.

The questions were asked during disbarment proceedings against Werner and Guggenheim refused to answer on the grounds that to do so might tend to incriminate him.

Yale Instructor Dead.

New Haven, Conn., April 10.—Thomas R. Lounsbury, professor of English at Yale university and one of the best known English scholars in the country, died here suddenly. He had been in poor health for some time. He was seventy-seven years old.

SHEPPARD LEADS THE "DRY" FORCES

Texas Senator Prepares For Hard Fight Against Liquor.

ENGLAND'S ACTION FELT HERE

Prohibitionists Jubilant as Great Britain Plans to Oust the Demon Rum—Plan to Have Government Increase Taxes and Later Buy and Close All Distilleries.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 10.—[Special.]—Beyond any question of doubt the action of King George of England, joining other monarchs in the cause of temperance, has had a tremendous effect in this country and given the prohibition movement a boost that will be felt for many years.

Morris Sheppard of Texas does not seem to have the place in the sun in this temperance movement to which he is entitled. He seems to be overshadowed by Bryan and Daniels. By Bryan because he holds an important place in the country and by Daniels because he is a cabinet officer and has taken an effective stand in the cause of temperance. And yet the Texas senator stands in a position to be an effective force in all coming prohibition movements. He will be leader of the fight in the senate when congress meets again not only for prohibition in the District of Columbia, but for the whole United States.

Sheppard Has a Plan.

Senator Sheppard says that with the anti-liquor element in control in both houses it has the power to force the liquor men to terms. By taxation, prohibitive if need be, it can drive the liquor business out of existence.

But he has a plan to set apart a portion of the revenue derived from taxing beer and whisky to pay for the distilleries and breweries. This would also apply to wine growers and manufacturers.

It is true that many prohibitionists oppose the plan because they claim that there should be no compromise with the liquor people, but that they should suffer everything possible on account of the misery which liquor has caused in the past.

The Practical Side.

But Sheppard points out the practical side. He says money could be accumulated in the way he suggests so as to pay for all the properties in fifteen or twenty years, and it would take at least that time to get three-fourths of the states to adopt a constitutional amendment for national prohibition. He believes that the liquor interests will agree to his plan.

"If they don't," he said, "we will adopt the taxing plan. I would prefer not to resort to that plan because it will make the subject an issue in every campaign in every congressional district, which is not desirable. But in one way or another we are going to drive liquor out of the country. If the great nations of the earth have found it desirable and necessary in the matter of efficiency in time of war, it is even more desirable in times of peace."

Interviewing the President.

President Wilson is not the first president who has been stung by taking in a foreign journalist and talking freely with him and having his words cabled abroad. Nearly every president has had a similar experience. It makes the average Washington correspondent rather tired to see a foreigner come in and get away with an interview, particularly when in confidential and frequent talks with the president the same subjects have been discussed. The average Washington correspondent knows there is an unwritten rule that the president must not be quoted.

Cost of the Mails.

Although there is a treasury deficit increasing every month, it is not likely that the people will take kindly to retrenchments which will mean less efficient mail service. No other service of the government comes in such close contact with the people as the postoffice. For most of the people there is no government of the United States except such as they see in the letter carriers and at the postoffices. And so the people want good mail service.

Without Root or Hughes.

Oftentimes there are cartoons of Republican possibilities or political sketches of men who may be named for president by the Republicans without reference to either Root or Hughes. A great many shrewd observers think that one or the other will be nominated. If either should be chosen it will be an out and out case of the office seeking the man, for both are discouraging all talk about themselves. The Republican situation is so complicated that mighty few guesses are made these days. And the discussion of candidates covers nearly a dozen different names.

TO FORCE JAIL SENTENCES

Department of Justice Will Combat Practice of Certain Courts.

Washington, April 10.—The department of justice is planning to test its view that federal judges have no warrant for suspending sentences of criminals or failing to order commitments after convictions.

Department officials are watching closely the progress of several cases in which they expect judges to suspend sentence or fail to commit and they intend when the time comes to seek in the supreme court or the proper circuit court of appeals a mandamus to compel enforcement of sentence.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR WOMEN

Western Union to Reduce Working Time for Female Employees.

New York, April 10.—An eight-hour day in place of nine hours for women employees of the Western Union Telegraph company will be put into effect in its larger offices throughout the country the first of next week, it was announced at the headquarters of the company.

The order affects about 2,000 women and girls on day duty.

Those employed at night have been working from seven to eleven and one-half hours, it is noted.

THE MASTER KEY

By John Fleming Wilson

By special arrangement for this paper a photo-drama corresponding to the installments of "The Master Key" may now be seen at the leading moving picture theaters. By arrangement made with the Universal Film Manufacturing company it is not only possible to read "The Master Key" in this paper, but also afterward to see moving pictures of our story.

Mrs. Darnell looked at Faversham with her tawny eyes filled with dull embers of passion. Everett sat at it stunned.

"So John Dorr gets the kicks and you get the halfpence!" said Wilkerson wildly. "I have cursed him, but all my curses couldn't have punished him worse. Why," he went on half hysterically, "the poor fool loves her!"

Again silence.
This time Everett broke it, saying stiffly: "You understand our proposition. Do you accept it?"

Mrs. Darnell laid her hand on Wilkerson's arm, and he seemed to fall into a profound reverie.

They could see the lights and shadows flit over his saturnine visage, the sparkle of his eyes dying into a mere dreamy glow, the sudden tightening of his thin lips, the working of his hands.

Finally he roused himself as by an effort.

"I think I ought to have more," he said quietly. "There are signs of gold on one part of this property which has never been worked. It is nowhere near the place marked in the plans, as you will easily see. You understand that Tom Gallon and I were partners when he located that rich ore. Never mind. Bygones are bygones. But I want $50,000 and that little claim. It may not amount to anything, but then again it may. Fifty thousand is soon spent. A mine is a mine."

"The plans!" demanded Sir Donald. Wilkerson pulled out of his shirt bosom an oldskin folded around a square paper. He laid this on the table.

"There they are," he said, as though driven to bay.

Mrs. Darnell's movement of protest did not escape either Everett or Faversham. They looked at the little packet that had cost so much agony and bloodshed.

"It is a—gentleman's agreement," said Sir Donald presently, taking out his check book.

The money passed, and then Everett picked up the oldskin packet and put it in his pocket.

"The deeds and the master key," he said gently.

Mrs. Darnell's face became splendid in its furtive rage. She tore the ribbon from about her throbbing throat and flung the key on the table.

Sir Donald picked it up carefully and rose. At the same moment Everett pocketed the deeds and started for the door.

He and Faversham passed out into the starry night and vanished, leaving Wilkerson still at the desk fumbling the check.

Suddenly he reached for pen and ink and scrawled his name on the back.

Then he silently handed it to Jean Darnell, biting her red lips and moving almost imperceptibly, like an animal about to spring.

She took the bit of paper and tucked it in her bosom. Then she turned on her companion. He met her fiery gaze coldly.

"The mother lode is on that little bit I got them to give us," he said calmly. "The plans Everett has are false."

And the look that she allowed him to see in her eyes was such as no other man had ever seen there. It was as if her tortured and lonely, proud soul had found its mate in some darkness made lurid by the flames of hell.

Sir Donald spoke a brief good night to Everett when they had left the office and turned toward the bungalow, leaving the other to go up to where the light burned in John Dorr's cabin and tell him of the events of the evening.

He met Ruth at the door and quietly told her that all was well. She looked up at him with her great eyes filled with unshed tears and he bent over her a little.

Then he drew out the master key and put the ribbon over her head until the dull brass shone on her white throat.

"You are once more the mistress of the master key," he said gently, "and of my heart."

Something in her expression told him he had said enough. With a cheerful word he went away.

But the next day Sir Donald renewed his wooing in such a fashion that Ruth was sorely put to it to keep him from demanding such caresses as her engagement made him rightfully ask for.

The hardest part was that she perceived that John Dorr now knew that she was to marry Sir Donald.

He did not know, nor ever would, what that marriage was the price of.

Everett, of course, had quietly introduced Sir Donald's assertion of his new relation to Ruth into his narrative of what had occurred in the office.

John had taken the blow steadily, but he was not one to walk in the dark. He sought out Ruth and in a few words drew from her the truth.

"Now we all know where we stand,"

John said bravely, smiling at her.

"But I—I thought you loved me too," she murmured.

"That doesn't alter the matter," he said comfortingly. "Now I must get to work. I've lots to do. Wilkerson has already started work around the spur, and I must begin driving into the place where your father found that rich vein. We may drift into it any day."

Naturally enough the two camps kept pretty much to themselves, but Tom Kane carried the gossip to John Dorr, evidently in an effort to distract his mind.

The old cook knew that John's heart was breaking, and between his love for each of them he was himself hard pressed to maintain a cheerful countenance.

"Wilkerson's impatient as ever," he told John one afternoon. "He can't wait on tunneling and such, but he's going to blow the whole face of his hill right off. Told his men that dynamite was better than pick and shovel."

"Well," said John, "that may prove all right. At least he'll get a notion of what formation he has to deal with."

Later that same day Kane announced that Wilkerson was going to set off the biggest battery of shots ever tried in the valley.

As a consequence Faversham, Ruth, John, Everett and many others went across the gulch toward evening to watch the show.

Old Tom Kane wagged his gray head doubtfully as he related how much dynamite had been planted and how Wilkerson's men were actually too nervous to work any longer.

"He has to fix the fuses and fire the shots himself," he said.

True enough, they saw man after man come down the hill till only Wilkerson was left.

Ruth noticed that he worked rapidly and with an occasional glance down toward Mrs. Darnell, who stood near a big rock shading her eyes against the evening sun.

At last the work was apparently done, and Wilkerson waved his arms. At that signal there was a general rush for cover.

Then the man straightened himself up as if master of the demons hidden at his feet, and waved his hand to the woman watching him from below; then he stooped.

An instant later there was a terrific explosion, and a smoky gap appeared halfway up the hillside.

At the foot of the slope lay the body of Wilkerson, tossed there as one might toss an old hat. The smoke on the hill eddied and swirled.

No one stirred. There were a dozen other unexploded shots in that hillside, any one of which would likely bring the toppling crest downward.

With white faces they held their breath. Wilkerson's body twitched slightly, the only moving thing in that amplitheater.

Then there was a wild scream, filled with terror, with passion, with flaming and awful desire, and Jean Darnell ran over the rubble toward the smoking hill, crying:

"Harry! Harry!"

A dozen men started to run to drag her back, and a hundred voices muttered warnings that held them in their tracks.

Jean reached the body and flung herself on it; then she rose and stared up at the great rocky crest.

Did she hear the roar of voices calling to her to flee while there was time?

Did she see the death that hung above her. If she did she despised it.

In this final cataclysm her wild heart broke through the bonds of this selfish existence and flung her a full passioned sacrifice on the body of the man who had loved her and given her his all—honor and life!

In the quick silence they who watched heard a single, full-throated cry:

"Harry! Harry!"

Then the mountain roared into the air, and the avalanche of rock poured over the two lovers in wave after wave till it had buried them forever.

And as explosion after explosion rocked the earth and filled the evening sky with lurid debris Ruth struggled from Sir Donald's detaining grasp and fled into the arms of John Dorr, where she clung, sobbing:

"John! John!"

Sir Donald looked at John Dorr's transfigured face and heard that cry, meant for lover's ears alone.

Very steadily he turned away and stared up at the terrific cataclysm which had united both the darkling hearted and golden youth.

He found the cook beside him, his gray locks streaming in the gusts of wind from the blasts. He pointed with his stick to a piece of rock that rolled to their feet, and in the dull stillness that followed the terrific uproar he said:

"I really believe, Mr. Kane, that we have uncovered the gold we have looked for so long."

And Tom Kane reached down and picked up the nugget and stared at it. Then he turned to the white-faced gentleman beside him.

"The Master Key!" the old man muttered.

"Yes," returned Sir Donald quietly, "it unlocks strange doors."

DOUBLY PROVEN

Brainerd Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Brainerd citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Mrs. Charles Erickson, 1103 E. Oak St., Brainerd, says "I suffered from weak kidneys for two or three years. I had dull pains through the small of my back that kept me in poor health. I also had headaches and dizzy spells. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and used them regularly. They made me feel much better in every way." (Statement given August 31, 1908.)

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Erickson said: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally for attacks of headache and have always found relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Erickson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

Alleged Dynamiters Plead Not Guilty to Murder Charge.

Los Angeles, April 9.—Dates for the trials of Matthew A. Schmidt and David Caplan, alleged dynamite conspirators, will be set Tuesday, Judge Frank Willis of the criminal branch of the superior court said after attorneys for the two men had entered pleas of not guilty to the charge of murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building Oct. 1, 1910.

INITIATIVE FOR SUFFRAGE

Resubmission of "Dry" Amendment Also to Be Sought.

Bismarck, N. D., April 10.—Women's suffrage and resubmission of the dry constitutional amendment will be voted upon by the people of North Dakota at the next general election. Both questions will be submitted through initiative petitions.

Suffrage forces will have no trouble obtaining the required petitions, 10 per cent of the voters, in a majority of the counties of the state. As for the resubmissionists the problem of procuring petitioners in sufficient number is a task of far greater proportions.

Mining Magnate Can't Dodge Question Regarding Divorce.

New York, April 10.—William Guggenheim, capitalist and copper mine owner, was directed by the appellate division of the supreme court to answer before a referee certain questions intended to make clear whether, in 1901, he and his lawyer, Louis Werner, had conspired to obtain a divorce for Guggenheim fraudulently in Chicago.

The questions were asked during disbarment proceedings against Werner and Guggenheim refused to answer on the grounds that to do so might tend to incriminate him.

Yale Instructor Dead.

New Haven, Conn., April 10.—Thomas R. Lounsbury, professor of English at Yale university and one of the best known English scholars in the country, died here suddenly. He had been in poor health for some time. He was seventy-seven years old.

Texas Senator Prepares For Hard Fight Against Liquor.

ENGLAND'S ACTION FELT HERE

Prohibitionists Jubilant as Great Britain Plans to Out the Demon Rum—Plan to Have Government Increase Taxes and Later Buy and Close All Distilleries.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 10.—[Special.]—Beyond any question of doubt the action of King George of England, joining other monarchs in the cause of temperance, has had a tremendous effect in this country and given the prohibition movement a boost that will be felt for many years.

Morris Sheppard of Texas does not seem to have the place in the sun in this temperance movement to which he is entitled. He seems to be overshadowed by Bryan and Daniels. By Bryan because he holds an important place in the country and by Daniels because he is a cabinet officer and has taken an effective stand in the cause of temperance. And yet the Texas senator stands in a position to be an effective force in all coming prohibition movements. He will be leader of the fight in the senate when congress meets again not only for prohibition in the District of Columbia, but for the whole United States.

Sheppard Has a Plan.

Senator Sheppard says that with the anti-liquor element in control in both houses it has the power to force the liquor men to terms. By taxation, prohibitive if need be, it can drive the liquor business out of existence.

But he has a plan to set apart a portion of the revenue derived from taxing beer and whisky to pay for the distilleries and breweries. This would also apply to wine growers and manufacturers.

It is true that many prohibitionists oppose the plan because they claim that there should be no compromise with the liquor people, but that they should suffer everything possible on account of the misery which liquor has caused in the past.

The Practical Side.

But Sheppard points out the practical side. He says money could be accumulated in the way he suggests so as to pay for all the properties in fifteen or twenty years, and it would take at least that time to get three-fourths of the states to adopt a constitutional amendment for national prohibition. He believes that the liquor interests will agree to his plan.

"If they don't," he said, "we will adopt the taxing plan. I would prefer not to resort to that plan because it will make the subject an issue in every campaign in every congressional district, which is not desirable. But in one way or another we are going to drive liquor out of the country. If the great nations of the earth have found it desirable and necessary in the matter of efficiency in time of war, it is even more desirable in times of peace."
